Biography

Peter Elliott began his professional career as a Senior Security Specialist in the Security Operations Center of First National Bank in downtown Omaha, NE. He transitioned into construction as a Framer and apprentice plumber, primarily focusing on commercial buildings, which eventually led to work as a Property Claims Adjuster. Building on his experience in insurance claims and property losses, Peter joined Paul Davis Restoration of Omaha as a Project Manager/Estimator. Later, he worked for a full-service general contractor, which sparked his interest in building consultation.
