Biography

Joseph Concia is a seasoned construction management professional with over 30 years of experience leading teams on multi-million-dollar projects across various industries. He specializes in construction estimating, claim cost analysis, and on-site project monitoring, with a strong ability to identify and resolve complex issues efficiently. His expertise extends to infrastructure development, strategic planning, budgeting, safety management, and regulatory compliance, ensuring all projects align with the latest industry standards.

Throughout his career, Joseph has consulted on numerous loss assignments across the U.S., including military bases, manufacturing plants, marine facilities, hospitals, and sports complexes affected by water, fire, and natural disasters. Before joining the YA Group as a Regional Consultant, he spent nearly nine years at J.S. Held as a Senior Building Consultant, managing complex projects nationwide. His ability to swiftly analyze and develop effective action plans ensures safe and efficient project execution.
